How do you set yourself apart from other college applicants? How do you get a taste of post-high-school life while taking on fun, new challenges? Why not do something BIG with your summer while earning college credit and living on a college campus? For the last 25 years the University of Arizona Honors College Summer of Excellence program (SOE) has offered an academic and social experience for students like you. Open to sophomores, juniors and seniors, SOE students take actual university courses, live on the UA campus and earn college credit, all while developing real college skills and meeting friends from around the country. It's simply the best way to experience college while still in high school.

ASU's Summer Engineering Experience
Program Dates: July 8-14 or July 15-21 2012
Deadline: ASAP

http://engineering.asu.edu/summerprograms/seeasu.html

Do you want to know what engineering is about? SEE@asu is a one week program that allows students, who will be high school seniors next year, the opportunity to learn what the fields of engineering entail. Students move in on Sunday afternoon and stay until the following Saturday. During each weekday, students spend the day with one of our five engineering schools touring its research labs, engaging in related engineering activities and meeting with faculty and students—all with the goal of getting to understand the fields and career opportunities available in engineering.

In order to be eligible, you need a minimum 1140 combined math and verbal on the SAT, or a minimum 24 combined ACT, or a minimum 3.0 GPA in your academic courses. For a $25 non-refundable application fee and $475 participation fee, you will receive room, board and all materials necessary for the program. For summer 2012, there will be two programs: July 8-14 and July 15-21.
